

Fig. 4. Correlation of C_h with selected surface parameters. All C_h data are shown for present work, while only average values are shown for the data of Jones et al. [17]. Correlations are generally better with filtered surface parameters for FC fluids and unfiltered surface parameters for water.